OVERVIEW

Room for everyone around the fire

The Gathering is the traditional wood-fired tub at its most generous. It's built entirely from timber, almost a metre deep, with wooden benches fixed around the wall and a stainless steel heater that warms the water directly.

At 2.2 metres across, there is room for six to eight to settle in together, so the whole evening can happen in one place. Light the fire, let the water come slowly to warmth, and let the conversation run on.

PLANNING YOUR SPACE

Site and running

BASE	A firm, level base such as gravel, chippings or paving slabs. No concrete needed; air must circulate underneath.
ACCESS	It arrives fully assembled at around 2.24 m across and 350 kg, so we check the route in and lifting with you first.
POWER	A supply for the sand filter pump, confirmed at the site review.
RUNNING COST	Estimated £35–70 a month, based on our average customers’ monthly use. We explain the assumptions, including how often you use it, how much wood you burn and the time of year.

JAMES’S TAKE

If yours is the house people gather at, this is the one. It’s the same simple, wood-fired tub as the Social, just with room for the whole table. It needs a bit more garden, so it’s worth a proper look at your space before deciding.
